Overview

Expenditures made by retirees of state and local government provide a steady economic stimulus to New Mexico communities and the state economy. In 2022, 100,145 residents of New Mexico received a total of $2.7 billion in pension benefits from state and local pension plans.

The average pension benefit received was $2,213 per month or $26,559 per year. These modest benefits provide retired teachers, public safety personnel, and others who served the public during their working careers income to meet basic needs in retirement.

Between 1993 and 2022, 25.60% of New Mexico's pension fund receipts came from employer contributions, 19.67% from employee contributions, and 54.73% from investment earnings.* Earnings on investments and employee contributions—not taxpayer based contributions—have historically made up the bulk of pension fund receipts.

Impact on Jobs and Incomes

Retiree expenditures stemming from state and local pension plan benefits supported 16,990 jobs in the state. The total income to state residents supported by pension expenditures was $842.6 million.

To put these employment impacts in perspective, in 2022 New Mexico's unemployment rate was 4.1%. The fact that DB pension expenditures supported 16,990 jobs is significant, as it represents 1.8 percentage points in New Mexico's labor force.
