

AOC Electronic Monitoring & Supervision Unit

The New Mexico Administrative Office of the Courts Electronic Monitoring & Supervision (EMS) Unit is the first centralized operation in the country that supports state court pretrial supervision programs. The Unit provides after-hours (nights, weekends, and holidays) GPS monitoring for defendants placed on electronic monitoring.

The EMS Unit, operationalized in October, 2021, investigates alerts regarding possible violations of conditions of release, contacts defendants, alleged victims, and law enforcement as needed, and requests bench warrants from on-call judges for actionable violations. The EMS Unit also assists with after-hours law enforcement requests regarding geo-location information. Currently, the EMS Unit provides after-hours monitoring for Santa Fe County, the Second, the Third, and the Thirteenth Judicial Districts. AOC plans to expand services to all judicial districts that utilize GPS monitoring as part of pretrial conditions of release.
