Providing Primary Health and Behavioral Health Services

This image illustrates Sunrise Clinics' hub-and-spoke model, where physicians are based at high schools—Santa Rosa, Tucumcari, West Las Vegas, and Pecos—and travel to smaller sites on a rotating schedule. Using telehealth kiosks staffed by Community Health Workers, Sunrise Clinics provides real-time care to students and staff whenever school is in session. The system allows physicians to remotely examine patients using tools like an otoscope, stethoscope, and thermometer, and gives parents the option to join visits via phone or computer—without leaving work.
