

How do Dual Credit Students Compare to Non Dual Credit Students?*

CNM GPA comparison

Dual Credit Students are 2x more likely to graduate on time than non dual credit students**

Students who complete the Bridge Scholarship requirements to obtain the Lottery Scholarship

On average, Dual Credit students require 40% less developmental education credit hours than non-Dual Credit students

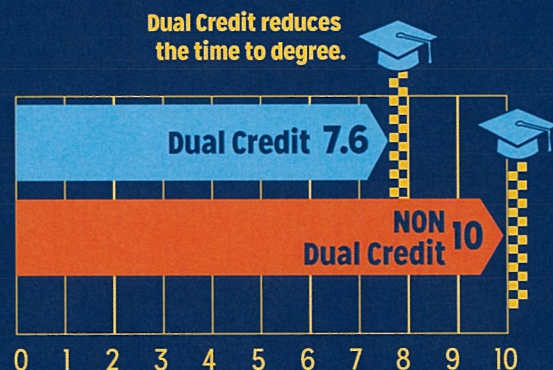

Percentage of students who retain Lottery Scholarship into their second year

This implies Dual Credit students are better prepared for college.

Semesters taken to graduate

*Students used in this data are from 2009-2016.

**On time graduation means a student graduates with an associate's degree within three years. This is the definition used by financial aid standards.

Dual Credit

---

CNM has Dual Credit Agreements with more than 80 schools/school districts across the state, in 15 different counties. Serving students in urban, rural and Native American communities.

CNM has served over 26,000 dual credit students since the 2007-2008 academic year.

CNM Increased the number of Dual Credit hours by 43.5% since 2013.

CNM makes college classes accessible to anyone through a number of online offerings and convenient locations around Albuquerque and Rio Rancho.

CNM has transfer agreements with all New Mexico universities reducing the time and cost of obtaining a bachelor's degree.

In AY 2015-2016 the graduation rate of APS students who took dual credit classes was 16.9% higher than those without.*

National studies indicate that participation in Dual Credit coursework correlates positively with college enrollment, persistence in college, and higher college grade point averages.*

**Source: Dual Credit Report For the School Year 2015-2016, Public Education Department & Higher Education Department*

College & Career High School (CCHS) - an Early College High School

---

Consistently earned an 'A' school grade from NM PED every year since opening.

Has a 100% high school graduation rate.

Opened to the first class in 2013-2014 Academic year, students can declare any CNM major of study.

Student profile:

- 68% free/reduced lunch
- 27% first generation college students
- 11% English is not their first language

49% of the class of 2017 earned a certificate or associate degree by high school graduation.

Class of 2018 is on track for 60% of the 55 seniors to graduate with a certificate or associate degree.

Hispanic students make up more than half of the students served at CCHS each semester and 54% of all students served.