

The Semilla Project

We are a center for transformation, 501(c3) that uses land-based learning in the outdoors to build leadership development and civic engagement in BIPOC communities across New Mexico.

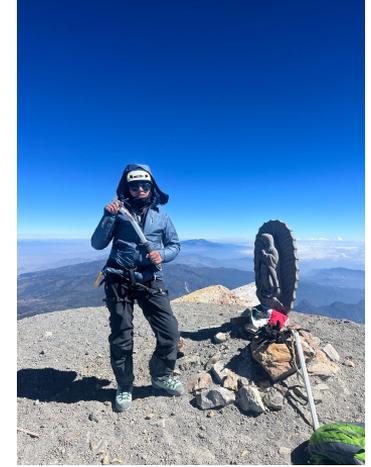

We operate on three branches:

- (1) Land Based & Outdoors
- (2) Leadership Development Programing
- (3) Civic Engagement

Land Based & Outdoors

1. SemiYA! Youth Activation through land based learning
2. Land Based Outreach for Campaigns (Nuestro Gila & OMDP)
3. Guide Trainings with Enchanted Mountain Guides
4. The Return: High Altitude Mountaineering Expeditions

Leadership Development

1. Summer Outdoor Program (2-week intensive)
2. Cosecha! Peer mentoring program through Native American Community Academy (NACA)
3. Economic Justice cohorts

Civic Engagement

1. Climate Justice & Land Based Campaigns
2. Canvassing
3. Youth Based organizing

Our Role in SB 9

1. Mobilize youth to testify and visit legislators
2. Support design process of SB 9
3. Youth Power Convening
