

NEW MEXICO WATER & WASTEWATER PROJECT LIFECYCLE

FROM PLANNING TO OPERATION

A 6-Phase Guide to Delivering Sustainable Infrastructure for New Mexico Communities

TYPICAL TIME FRAME
5–8 YEARS

CRITICAL PROJECT MANAGEMENT FACTORS

- Integrated Planning
- Stakeholder Engagement
- Regulatory Compliance
- Affordability & Financial Prudence
- Design That Fits
- Adaptive Construction Management

NMFA Available Funds

- Local Government Planning Fund
- Technical Assistance (Pre-Application Support)
- Water Trust Board Financing
- Colonias Infrastructure Funds Loans/Grants
- Drinking Water State Revolving Loan Fund
- Public Project Revolving Fund (PPRF)
- Technical Assistance for Environmental Documentation
- Grants for Planning & Capacity Building
- Loan Commitment (Construction Financing)
- Grant Convertible Loans (Colonias Fund)
- Construction Loans (Water Trust Board & SRF)
- Public Project Revolving Fund (PPRF)
- Final Loan Disbursement

Other Potential Funding Sources in New Mexico (May be Used in Combination with NMFA Programs)

 Grants and loans for rural water and wastewater projects.	 Low-interest loans for drinking water projects.	 Low-interest loans for wastewater projects.	 Infrastructure grants for eligible communities.	 Grants/loans for colonias water, wastewater and solid waste projects.	 Low-cost loans for regionally significant water projects.	 Local match, in-kind services, and tribal funding opportunities.	 Loans for public infrastructure projects.
---	---	---	---	---	---	--	---

KEY AGENCIES & PARTNERS

- New Mexico Environment Department (NMED-CPB & DWB)
- New Mexico Finance Authority (NMFA)
- USDA Rural Utilities Service (RUS)
- Drinking Water/Clean Water State Revolving Funds (SRF)
- Community Development Block Grant (CDBG)
- New Mexico Department of Transportation (NMDOT)
- New Mexico Office of the State Engineer (OSE)
- Department of Finance & Administration (DFA) and State Auditor's Office (SAO)
- State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) and Tribal Governments

* Funding timelines depend on legislative and agency application cycles.