The SOTER RS has been developed for area's where safety is an important issue. To prevent people taking prohibited materials in or outside a building, the

The main difference between the SOTER RS and the Body Scanners at US Airports is that the SOTER RS not only detects metal, similar to the Airport Systems, but also other materials such as ceramic knives, plastic explosives, glass, narcotics, tobacco and other organic materials. The System also does not include external body imaging software, so is not at risk of privacy issues.
