SUMMARY

Synopsis of Bill

House Bill 210 appropriates $750 thousand from the general fund to the Department of Health for the purpose of developing, implementing, evaluating, and contracting with a statewide collation of suicide prevention programs for a coordinated set of community-based, culturally appropriate suicide prevention programs and services.

PERFORMANCE IMPLICATIONS

One of the performance measures for DOH is the suicide rate per 100 thousand suicides for youth ages 15-24. This bill could help the department improve this performance measure.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

The appropriation of $750 thousand contained in this bill is a recurring expense to the general fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of fiscal year 2006 shall revert to the general fund.

In his New Program Initiatives Recommendations, The Governor recommended $600 thousand for a suicide prevention program. However, this request was not included in the agency's budget request submitted in September, 2004 and reviewed by the LFC.

ADMINISTRATIVE IMPLICATIONS

DOH would incur administrative costs to establish the request for proposals process, initiate contracts, monitor and evaluate programs, collect and analyze data, and provide technical assistance.

DOH indicates that it already manages contracts for youth, parent, and community suicide education programs in Santa Fe and surrounding areas. Currently 1.0 FTE is assigned to youth suicide prevention efforts. DOH indicates that the obligations created by this bill may necessitate a temporary shift of resources.

CONFLICT, DUPLICATION, COMPANIONSHIP, RELATIONSHIP

Senate Bill 210 is a duplicate of House Bill 263.

OTHER SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES

The statistics regarding suicide in New Mexico are alarming. According to DOH, New Mexico's suicide rate is nearly twice the national rate, ranking New Mexico fourth among all states. DOH further writes that "...80% of psychiatrists, 70% of psychologists, 47% of social workers, and 53% of counselors are concentrated in Bernalillo and Santa Fe counties. Most of these behavioral health practitioners do not have training for working with children or adolescents."

The Governor created the Youth Suicide Prevention Task Force, which includes a multi-cultural group of family members, mental health care providers, advocates, and young people who work to develop strategies to prevent suicide and link these efforts to the schools. DOH also indicates that a statewide coalition, the New Mexico Suicide Prevention Coalition, has been working with DOH since April 2003. The appropriation contained in Senate Bill 210 would be used to expand and intensify existing suicide prevention efforts.
