SUMMARY

Synopsis of HEC Amendment

House Education Committee Amendment to House Bill 187 removes provisions for the development of a curriculum using international films to one that helps New Mexico middle school students acquire knowledge and skills needed for success in the twenty first century while expanding basic proficiency in reading, writing, mathematics, science, social studies and critical thinking.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

The provisions contained in this bill are similar to a special appropriations request for “Journeys in Film” which utilizes this same language in describing the program. An appropriation for “Journeys in Film” is included in the General Appropriations Act.

Synopsis of Original Bill

House Bill 187 appropriates $400 thousand from the general fund to the Public Education Department to contract for a program to develop and implement an interdisciplinary international education curriculum using international films for middle school students statewide.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

The department notes that managing the contract will require some human resource support and estimates this additional support at $4.8 thousand.

The appropriation of $400 thousand contained in the bill is a recurring expense to the general fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of fiscal year 2008 shall revert to the general fund.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

The Public Education Department reports Global Awareness is a key component of 21st century learning, as defined by the Partnership for 21st Century Skills. Global awareness promotes understanding, tolerance and acceptance of ethnic, cultural, religious and personal differences as they play out in communities and workplaces. It also helps people work through the complexities of different points of view that spring from different parts of the world.

These observations underscore both the importance of international education and the need for access to high-quality, standards-based interdisciplinary curriculum which are not currently available. Film provides a promising medium for developing the required understandings. Research in both educational theory and cognitive psychology tells us that visual learning is among the very best methods for teaching students of all ages how to think and how to learn. Visual learning techniques - graphical ways of working with ideas and presenting information - teach students to clarify their thinking, and to process, organize and prioritize new information.
