SUMMARY

Synopsis of HCPAC Amendment

The House Consumer and Public Affairs Committee amendment to HB 427 adds licensed athletic trainer to the list of health care providers in the Telehealth Act.

Synopsis of Original Bill

House Bill 427 proposes amendments to the New Mexico Telehealth Act (NMTA) that include:

- Clarification of “medical care” to include general health, behavioral health and oral health;
- Clarification of the NMTA purpose to provide telehealth services in a manner that provides efficient and effective access to quality health services. Telehealth services include consultations, direct patient care and education for health care professionals, support personnel, students, families, patients and other consumers of health care services;
- Adding licensed independent social worker, licensed counselor, and community health representative to the definition of health care provider;
- Adding a federally qualified health center and a community health center to the definition of

- originating site; and
- Clarification of language to encourage the use and coverage of telehealth by health insurers, health maintenance organizations, managed care organizations, third-party payors and the State’s Medical Assistance Program.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

None noted.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

DOH notes that the proposed clarification in HB 427 of “medical care” to include behavioral health and oral health reflects needed emphasis on the importance of providing access to behavioral health and oral health services in rural areas of the state.

The proposed addition of social workers, counselors and community health representatives to the definition of health care provider appropriately reflects the diversity of professionals involved in providing for the health care needs of rural residents.

The proposed addition of federally qualified health centers and community health centers as originating sites reflects the role these centers play in meeting the health care needs of rural residents. In many rural communities these centers may be the only accessible avenue for receiving health care.

DUPLICATION AND RELATIONSHIP

HB 427 is duplicated by SB 456. HB 427 relates to HB 429/SB 180 which propose an appropriation of $600,000 to the DOH for Telehealth Programs and HB 173, which would appropriate $150,000 to the University of New Mexico for telehealth consultation. HB 871 provides $500 thousand to DOH to coordinate and assist in implementation of telemedicine programs and projects throughout the state through contracting with a qualified non-profit

TECHNICAL ISSUES

DOH notes that the Act defines a “health care professional” as a person licensed to provide health care. HB 427 seeks to add “(22) a community health representative” to the list of licensed health care professionals. “Community health representatives” may or may not be licensed and if not licensed, would not fit the definition as written.
