10 A JOINT MEMORIAL

11 REQUESTING A LEGISLATIVE STUDY OF CURRENT NEW MEXICO LAW
12 RELATING TO MANAGING COUNTY JAIL OVERCROWDING.

13
14 WHEREAS, New Mexico county jails are seriously 15 overcrowded; and

16 WHEREAS, New Mexico county taxpayers struggle to meet the 17 costs of compliance with federal constitutional standards for 18 confinement of inmates; and

19 WHEREAS, in 2007, New Mexico county taxpayers spent well
20 over one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) to house, 21 transport, feed and provide medical care to approximately seven 22 thousand inmates in county jails; and

23 WHEREAS, detention costs comprise approximately one-fourth 24 of county general fund budgets; and

25 WHEREAS, county taxpayers pay approximately thirty million

1 dollars ($30,000,000) per year to house state prisoners in 2 county jails; and

3 WHEREAS, county governments are facing increased
4 litigation costs due to unsafe conditions created by jail
5 overcrowding; and

6 WHEREAS, approximately one-half of all inmates housed in 7 county jails were arrested within municipal boundaries by 8 municipal officers but became county inmates because they were 9 charged with crimes under state law and, therefore,
10 municipalities pay counties only a small fraction of costs for 11 the inmates; and

12 WHEREAS, most inmates held in county jails spent almost 13 seven and one-half months, or two hundred twenty-four days, in 14 jail; and

15 WHEREAS, after sentencing, an average jail inmate spends 16 another nineteen days in jail before being transported to 17 prison; and

18 WHEREAS, New Mexico state laws establishing county jails 19 were originally adopted in 1865 and 1866, when costs to 20 maintain jails were minimal and each county jail contained only 21 a few cells and was operated by the county sheriff; and

22 WHEREAS, New Mexico statutes currently provide no
23 authority to boards of county commissioners to set policy to 24 manage effectively county jail populations, even when the 25 facilities become overcrowded and unsafe; and
