SUMMARY

Synopsis of HJC Amendment to House Joint Resolution 2

The House Judiciary Committee amendment changes the title and strikes the word “an” prior to “explanation” and replaces it with “a substantive” so that the governor shall include a substantive explanation for a veto.

Synopsis of House Joint Resolution 2

House Joint Resolution 2 (HJR2) proposes an amendment to Article IV, Section 22, of the state constitution to eliminate the governor’s pocket veto. Under the current provision, the governor must approve bills presented during the last three days of a session within 20 days after the Legislature adjourns. If the governor does not approve a bill within the required 20 days, the bill does not become a law. HJR2 amends the provision to require bills presented to the governor during the last three days of the session to be approved or vetoed within 20 days after adjournment. Unless vetoed within the required 20 days, the bill becomes a law. HJR2 also requires the governor to provide an explanation for every bill vetoed in whole or in part. Currently, the constitution only requires the governor to explain bills that are vetoed while the Legislature is in session.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

Under Section 1-16-4 NMSA 1978 and the New Mexico Constitution, the Secretary of State (SOS) is required to print samples of the text of each constitutional amendment in both Spanish and English in an amount equal to 10 percent of the registered voters in the state. SOS is required to publish the samples once a week for four weeks preceding the election in newspapers in every county in the state. Further, the number of constitutional amendments on the ballot may impact the ballot page size or cause the ballot to be more than one page, also increasing costs. The estimated cost per constitutional amendment is $35 thousand to $50 thousand, depending on the size and number of ballots and if additional ballot stations are needed.

Should this proposed constitutional amendment be approved by voters, a cost that is indeterminate but minimal may impact the Office of the Governor if additional support is needed to review bills passed by the Legislature and prepare veto messages as applicable. Another cost burden mentioned by Office of the Governor could be costly legal challenges related to explanations given by the Governor.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

According to the Office of the Governor:

The language in Article 4 Section 22 of the New Mexico Constitution creates the power of the “pocket veto,” which has been in place for over 100 years, and which is bestowed upon many other governors and the President.<sup>1</sup> HJR2 infringes upon the Governor’s veto power by removing the Governor’s discretion to sign, formally veto, or pocket veto a bill presented in the last three days of the legislative session and requiring the Governor to provide a written explanation for every veto. This is ill advised, as there may be number of reasons for a governor to choose to pocket veto a bill rather than formally veto it. For example, the pocket veto allows the Governor to disapprove of legislation based on unforeseen issues without being compelled to publicly disclose sensitive information in a veto message.

Further, this amendment is wholly unnecessary because the Legislature already has the power to force the Governor to provide a reason for vetoing a bill by passing the legislation prior to the last three days of a session—triggering her duty to sign the legislation or return it to the Legislature with her objections. See N.M. Const. Art. IV, Section 22.

As shown in the attached table prepared by the Legislative Council Service, 160 bills have been vetoed between 2014 and 2024.

ADMINISTRATIVE IMPLICATIONS

The Office of the Governor reports that the elimination of the pocket veto authority and explanation of veto provision of the bill will create significant burden to the Governor’s office each year, as the majority of bills that are passed in the last three days of the legislation and require substantial time and resources to analyze as-is.
