SECTION III: NARRATIVE

BILL SUMMARY

Synopsis:

SB 173 amends the Medical Malpractice Act to expand the types of malpractice liability insurance health care providers may use to qualify for Act protections by explicitly allowing both claims-made and occurrence-based policies, requiring tail coverage when claims-made policies are terminated, and clarifying insurance and deposit requirements for providers, independent outpatient facilities, and hospitals.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

The UNM Health System—including UNM Hospital, the medical faculty of the UNM School of Medicine, and other public employees—is not covered under the New Mexico Medical Malpractice Act, NMSA 1978, Section 41-5-1 et seq. Instead, the UNM Health System and its public employees are subject to medical professional liability coverage exclusively under the New Mexico Tort Claims Act, NMSA 1978, Section 41-4-1 et seq., including the immunities and limitations on liability provided therein.

As the state’s primary academic health system, the UNM Health System trains medical residents and fellows, medical students, pharmacy students, and nursing students. The system supports policies that promote a stable health care environment and expand access to care for New Mexicans, including measures that help reduce workforce shortages across health professions.
