SAAD K'IDILYÉ

Saad K'idilyé (SK) is a Diné led 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization located in Albuquerque, NM.

In August of 2026, Saad K'idilyé began its fifth year as a fully licensed Early Childhood Education and Care Department child care center that operates as a Diné language nest serving local families and children from prenatal to Pre-K.

Saad K'idilyé translates to "The Planting of the Language Seed", and is the first Diné language nest immersion program that addresses Diné language and cultural revitalization and sustainability.

"At Saad K'idilyé, we are dedicated to 'The Planting of the Language Seed,' ensuring our Diné language and culture thrive for generations to come. To sustain this vital work, we are inviting you to invest in two fundamental pillars of our growth:

Securing Our Future: Contribute to our Capital Project Fund (held at the New Mexico Foundation). These resources are dedicated to the long-term acquisition of land and facilities, ensuring a permanent home for our immersion programs.

Investing in Our Community: Support our core programming, which provides essential family services and ongoing professional development for our dedicated staff. Your gift here directly fuels the intergenerational healing and transformational education that define our community."

SK plays a critical role in the revitalization of the intergenerational transmission and continued living use of the Diné language. In addition, SK provides a strong foundation of health, happiness, and prosperity.

Join us in planting the seeds for the next generation of Diné leaders. Donate today!"
