Behavioral Health Treatment Resources

- Notably lacking in rural counties of New Mexico are psychiatric hospitals or residential treatment centers
- Statewide there are 13 facilities with 562 beds, but only 1 facility with 20 beds is located in a rural county.

Behavioral Health Care Licensed Providers

- Rural counties have 3.28 behavior health providers per 1000 population
- Urban counties have 5.05 per 1000, a 54% greater rate

Rural/Frontier Challenges:

- Isolation
- Stigma
- Transportation (lack of, cost, distance)
- Less stable data than rural communities
- Less access to treatment.
- Even less access to culturally appropriate care.
- More vulnerable

Solutions

- Invest in prevention
- Reinvest in rural/frontier counties (SJM2)
- Statewide and regional multi-agency planning
- Funding criteria that considers more than population
- Rural/frontier funding set asides
- Support community driven initiatives and funding, like Total Community Approach
- Telehealth
- Flexible funding to cover transportation and other costs
- Urban and rural partnerships
