

Mag Strittmatter

Mag has served as President and CEO of Roadrunner Food Bank since January 2018.

Mag spent much of her earlier career in fund development, serving as Director of Development at several higher educational institutions including Colorado State University, University of Colorado Foundation and Metropolitan State University of Denver. She holds a Bachelor of Arts from Penn State University and a Master of Arts from the University of Colorado at Boulder.

She came to Roadrunner from The Action Center, serving Jefferson County Colorado. She first joined The Action Center as Director of Development and Communications in 2002 and was subsequently selected as Executive Director in early 2006. The Action Center serves low income residents and the homeless in Jefferson County, CO. During her tenure, Mag significantly increased the organization's profile across the Denver metro area, increased fundraising and significantly grew programming levels focusing on immediate needs and pathways to self-sufficiency.

She also served on several state and county commissions related to poverty alleviation.