

RPV POLICY FUTURE: Federal and State

Susan Mertes, JD July 6, 2015
Science, Technology and Telecommunications Committee

US lags behind other countries

Integration

R&D

Economic loss

Federal delay

Congressional mandate

Delay in small UAS final rules

Test sites underutilized

Next steps

State arena

Economic advantages

States' laws

Privacy: Federal preemption of state regulations

Options for integration, RPV regulation

CONTACT: Susan Mertes
susanmertes@centurylink.net 703-209-4505

SELECTED REFERENCES]

Unmanned Air Systems and Regulating Navigable Airspace; Wendie L. Wellington and Edward E. DeMott; ALI ALBA Land Use Institute, August 2013

Five Ways to Integrate Drones into Domestic Airspace; Samra Kasim and Matt Caccavale; Nextgov, March 2013

Integration of Drones into Domestic Airspace: Selected Legal Issues; Alissa M. Dolan and Richard M. Thompson; Congressional Research Service Report, April 2013

Unmanned Aerial Systems: Status of Test Sites and International Developments, Testimony of Gerald L. Dillingham, Director, before Subcommittee on Aviation, Operations, Safety, and Security, Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, U.S. Senate, March 2015

FAA Press Release, Pathfinder Initiative, May 2013