Several sources of authority govern the conduct of legislators: the constitution of New Mexico, statutes, the rules of the house and senate and advisory opinions from the various ethics committees. This guide captures the essence of the law, rule or opinion cited as it applies to legislators. Members are strongly urged to consult the specific law, rule or opinion.

All legislators should become familiar with the following acts, which appear in full in the Appendix section of this guide.

Governmental Conduct Act

(Chapter 10, Article 16 NMSA 1978)

Lobbyist Regulation Act

(Chapter 2, Article 11 NMSA 1978)

Campaign Reporting Act

(Sections 1-19-25 through 1-19-36 NMSA 1978)

Financial Disclosure Act

(Sections 10-16A-1 through 10-16A-8 NMSA 1978)

Gift Act

(Chapter 10, Article 16B NMSA 1978)

In addition, legislators who do business with the state should also pay particular attention to the Procurement Code (Sections 13-1-28 through 13-1-199 NMSA 1978), which applies to many state purchases.

The rules of the house and the senate govern the specific conduct of house and senate members. Each house adopts its own rules. Copies of the rules are included in the legislative handbook and are posted on the legislature's web site (www.nmlegis.gov). Advisory opinions are also posted on the web site.

This guide divides the parameters of legislative conduct into two categories: what you must do (required conduct) and what you must not do (prohibited conduct). What you must do is generally related to campaign reporting and financial disclosure. What you must not do generally relates to the jobs you may not hold, the contracts into which you may not enter and the ways in which you must separate your legislative life from your business and your family life.

You may contact any of the following agencies for further assistance with ethics questions.

Employment

Members shall attempt to ensure that their private employment does not impair their impartiality (Senate Rule 26-1(B)(2), House Rule 26-1(B)(2)).

Ethics

Members shall attend a minimum of two hours of ethics continuing education and training biennially (Subsection E of Section 10-16-11 NMSA 1978, Senate Rule 26-2, House Rule 26-2).

Members shall sign a code of ethics (Senate Rule 26-2, House Rule 26-2).

Financial Disclosure

Each legislative candidate shall file a financial disclosure statement upon becoming a candidate. Members shall, during the month of January, file financial disclosure statements. The statements shall set out all sources of gross income greater than $5,000, a general description of New Mexico real estate owned, New Mexico business interests of $10,000 or more, memberships on for-profit boards, the name of each state agency that was sold $5,000 or more in goods or services in the previous year and each state agency before which they represented or assisted clients in the course of employment (Subsections A and C of Section 10-16A-3 NMSA 1978).

Lobbyist Expenditures

Lobbyists and lobbyists' employers shall report every expenditure, even if unrelated to lobbying, and political contributions made on behalf of members (Subsection A of Section 2-11-6 NMSA 1978). Although members face no requirement under this section, they should be aware of the requirement on lobbyists and lobbyists' employers.

Public Service

Members shall conduct themselves in a manner that justifies the confidence placed in them by the people and maintain the integrity of and discharge ethically the high responsibilities of public service (Subsection B of Section 10-16-3 NMSA 1978, Senate Rule 26-1(A), House Rule 26-1(A)).

Public Trust

Members shall treat their government positions as public trusts and use the powers and resources of their offices only to advance the public interest (Subsection A of Section 10-16-3 NMSA 1978).

Representatives shall vote on each question unless excused by a majority vote (House Rule 7-5).

Voting - Senate

Senators shall vote on each question unless they have a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the question (Senate Rule 7-5).

PROHIBITED CONDUCT

Appearance Before a State Agency

Members shall not appear for, assist or represent anyone before a state agency, unless without compensation or for the benefit of a constituent, except attorneys or other professionals engaged in their professions, and in those cases, members shall refrain from references to their legislative capacities and from communications on legislative stationery (Subsection B of Section 10-16-9 NMSA 1978, Senate Rule 26-1(C)(1), House Rule 26-1(C)(1)).

The attorney general's office has concluded that the restriction limiting a candidate to making donations only to other candidates covered by the act may be vulnerable to legal challenge and that it is permissible to donate to any political candidate, including federal candidates (Subsection A of Section 1-19-29.1 NMSA 1978, Attorney General Advisory Letters to Legislative Council Service, July 23, 2009 and June 24, 2010).

Members shall neither request nor receive an honorarium of money, or any other thing of value in excess of $100, for a speech or service that relates to the performance of public duties (Section 10-16-4.1 NMSA 1978).

Members, their spouses and their dependent children may not accept a gift worth more than $250 from lobbyists, lobbyists' clients, persons doing business or seeking to do business with the legislature or persons who will be financially affected by the member's official duties in a way that is greater than the effect on the public generally or a substantial class of persons to which the donor belongs (Subsection A of Section 10-16B-3 NMSA 1978).

A lobbyist, lobbyist's client or government contractor shall not give gifts worth more than $1,000 in a year to a member (Subsection B of Section 10-16B-3 NMSA 1978).

Members should refrain from using official legislative stationery to write letters to state agencies on behalf of constituents who are immediate family members, except when the immediate family member is a part of a larger class of similarly situated constituents (Interim Legislative Ethics Committee, Advisory Opinion No. 97-2).

PROCEDURES

In addition to civil and criminal procedures, which may be initiated by the secretary of state, the attorney general or a district attorney, there are several other ways in which action against a member or candidate may be initiated.

C. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "anything of value" means any money, property, service, loan or promise, but does not include food and refreshments with a value of less than one hundred dollars ($100) consumed in a day; and

10-16-14. Enforcement procedures.

A. The secretary of state may refer suspected violations of the Governmental Conduct Act to the attorney general, district attorney or appropriate state agency or legislative body for enforcement. If a suspected violation involves the office of the secretary of state, the attorney general may enforce that act. If a suspected violation involves the office of the attorney general, a district attorney may enforce that act.

B. Violation of the provisions of the Governmental Conduct Act by any legislator is grounds for discipline by the appropriate legislative body.

C. If the attorney general determines that there is sufficient cause to file a complaint against a public officer removable only by impeachment, he shall refer the matter to the house of representatives of the legislature. If within thirty days after the referral the house of representatives has neither formally declared that the charges contained in the complaint are not substantial nor instituted hearings on the complaint, the attorney general shall make public the nature of the charges, but he shall make clear that the merits of the charges have never been determined. Days during which the legislature is not in session shall not be included in determining the thirty-day period.

D. Violation of the provisions of the Governmental Conduct Act by any public officer or employee, other than those covered by Subsection C of this section, is grounds for discipline, including dismissal, demotion or suspension. Complaints against executive branch employees may be filed with the agency head and reviewed pursuant to the procedures provided in the Personnel Act. Complaints against legislative branch employees may be filed with and reviewed pursuant to procedures adopted by the New Mexico legislative council. Complaints against judicial branch employees may be filed and reviewed pursuant to the procedures provided in the judicial personnel rules.

E. Subject to the provisions of this section, the Governmental Conduct Act may be enforced by the attorney general. Except as regards legislators or statewide elected officials, a district attorney in the county where a person resides or where a violation occurred may also enforce that act. Enforcement actions may include seeking civil injunctive or other appropriate orders.

10-16-15. Repealed.

10-16-16. [Recompiled.]

10-16-17. Criminal penalties.

Unless specified otherwise in the Governmental Conduct Act, any person who knowingly and willfully violates any of the provisions of that act is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both. Nothing in the Governmental Conduct Act shall preclude criminal prosecution for bribery or other provisions of law set forth in the constitution of New Mexico or by statute.

10-16-18. Enforcement; civil penalties.

A. If the secretary of state reasonably believes that a person committed, or is about to commit, a violation of the Governmental Conduct Act, the secretary of state shall refer the matter to the attorney general or a district attorney for enforcement.

Unless otherwise provided for in this section, or by rule or regulation adopted by the secretary of state, the procedures for the arbitration shall be governed by the Uniform Arbitration Act. No arbitrator shall be subject to liability for actions taken pursuant to this section.

(2) all disbursements of money and receipts of contributions are authorized by and through the candidate or treasurer;

(3) a separate bank account has been established and all receipts of money contributions and all expenditures of money are deposited in and disbursed from the one bank account maintained by the treasurer in the name of the candidate or political committee; provided that nothing in this section shall prohibit investments from the bank account to earn interest as long as the investments and earnings are fully reported. All disbursements except for disbursements made from a petty cash fund of one hundred dollars ($100) or less shall be by check made payable to the person or entity receiving the disbursement and not to "cash" or "bearer"; and

(4) the treasurer upon disbursing or receiving money or other things of value immediately enters and thereafter keeps a proper record preserved by him, including a full, true and itemized statement and account of each sum disbursed or received, the date of such disbursement

B. It is unlawful during the prohibited period for the governor, or any agent on his behalf, to knowingly solicit a contribution for a political purpose. For purposes of this subsection, "prohibited period" means that period beginning January 1 prior to any regular session of the legislature or, in the case of a special session, after the proclamation has been issued, and ending on the twentieth day following the adjournment of the regular or special session.

1-19-34.2. Regulated industry solicitations prohibited.

It is unlawful for an elected state official, public officer or employee who works for a regulatory office or a candidate who seeks election to a regulatory office or anyone authorized by a candidate to solicit funds on his behalf to knowingly solicit a contribution from an entity or its officers or employees or a person that is directly regulated by the office. For purposes of this section, an entity or person is directly regulated by an office when the entity's or person's charges for services offered to the public are set or directly subject to approval by the regulatory office or when a license to do business in the state is determined by the regulatory office.

1-19-34.3. Contributions in one name given for another prohibited.

It is unlawful for a person to make a contribution in the name of another person, and no person shall knowingly accept a contribution made by one person in the name of another person.

A. The secretary of state shall advise and seek to educate all persons required to perform duties under the Campaign Reporting Act of those duties. This includes advising all known reporting individuals at least annually of that act's deadlines for submitting required reports and statements of exception. The secretary of state, in consultation with the attorney general, shall issue advisory opinions, when requested in writing to do so, on matters concerning that act. All prescribed forms prepared shall be clear and easy to complete.

B. The secretary of state may initiate investigations to determine whether any provision of the Campaign Reporting Act has been violated. Additionally, any person who believes that a provision of that act has been violated may file a written complaint with the secretary of state any time prior to ninety days after an election, except that no complaints from the public may be filed within eight days prior to an election. The secretary of state shall adopt procedures for issuing advisory opinions and processing complaints and notifications of violations.

C. The secretary of state shall at all times seek to ensure voluntary compliance with the provisions of the Campaign Reporting Act. If the secretary of state determines that a provision of that act for which a penalty may be imposed has been violated, the secretary of state shall by written notice set forth the violation and the fine imposed and inform the reporting individual that he has ten working days from the date of the letter to correct the matter and to provide a written explanation, under penalty of perjury, stating any reason why the violation occurred. If a timely explanation is filed and the secretary of state determines that good cause exists to waive the fine imposed, the secretary of state may by a written notice of final action partially or fully waive any fine imposed for any late, incomplete or false report or statement of exception. A written notice of final action shall be sent by certified mail.

D. Upon receipt of the notice of final action, the person against whom the penalty has been imposed may protest the secretary of state's determination, including an advisory opinion, by submitting on a prescribed form a written request for binding arbitration to the secretary of state within ten working days of the date of the notice of final action. Any fine imposed shall be due and payable within ten working days of the date of notice of final action. No additional fine shall accrue pending the issuance of the arbitration decision. Fines paid pursuant to a notice of final action that are subsequently reduced or dismissed shall be reimbursed with interest within ten working days after the filing of the arbitration decision with the secretary of state. Interest on the reduced or dismissed portion of the fine shall be the same as the rate of interest earned by the secretary of state's escrow account to be established by the department of finance and administration.

E. An arbitration hearing shall be conducted by a single arbitrator selected within ten days by the person against whom the penalty has been imposed from a list of five arbitrators provided by the secretary of state. Neither the secretary of state nor a person subject to the Campaign Reporting Act, Lobbyist Regulation Act or Financial Disclosure Act may serve as an arbitrator. Arbitrators shall be considered to be independent contractors, not public officers or employees, and shall not be paid per diem and mileage.

F. The arbitrator shall conduct the hearing within thirty days of the request for arbitration. The arbitrator may impose any penalty the secretary of state is authorized to impose. The arbitrator shall state the reasons for his decision in a written document that shall be a public record. The decision shall be final and binding. The decision shall be issued and filed with the secretary of state within thirty days of the conclusion of the hearing. Unless otherwise provided for in this section or by rule or regulation adopted by the secretary of state, the procedures for the arbitration shall be governed by the Uniform Arbitration Act. No arbitrator shall be subject to liability for actions taken pursuant to this section.

1-19-34.5. Presumptions; civil action.

B. For purposes of a civil action, it shall be presumed that a candidate who seeks election to a regulatory office, as described in Section 1-19-34.2 NMSA 1978, has advised his campaign committee and all persons authorized by the candidate to solicit campaign contributions on his behalf that it is unlawful to solicit contributions from an entity or its officers or employees or a person that is directly regulated by the office the candidate seeks.

1-19-34.6. Civil penalties.

A. If the secretary of state reasonably believes that a person committed, or is about to commit, a violation of the Campaign Reporting Act, the secretary of state shall refer the matter to the attorney general or a district attorney for enforcement.

B. The attorney general or district attorney may institute a civil action in district court for any violation of the Campaign Reporting Act or to prevent a violation of that act that involves an unlawful solicitation or the making or acceptance of an unlawful contribution. An action for relief may include a permanent or temporary injunction, a restraining order or any other appropriate order, including a civil penalty of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each violation not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), and forfeiture of any contribution received as a result of an unlawful solicitation or unlawful contribution. Each unlawful solicitation and each unlawful contribution made or accepted shall be deemed a separate violation of the Campaign Reporting Act.

C. The attorney general or district attorney may institute a civil action in district court if a violation has occurred or to prevent a violation of any provision of the Campaign Reporting Act other than that specified in Subsection B of this section. Relief may include a permanent or temporary injunction, a restraining order or any other appropriate order, including an order for a civil penalty of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each violation not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

1-19-34.7. Contribution limitations; candidates; political committees.

A. The following contributions by the following persons are prohibited:

(1) from a person, not including a political committee, to a:

(b) another political committee in an amount that will cause that political committee's total contributions to the political committee to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) during a primary election or five thousand dollars ($5,000) during a general election.

B. All contributions made by a person to a candidate, either directly or indirectly, including contributions that are in any way earmarked or otherwise directed through another person to a candidate, shall be treated as contributions from the person to that candidate.

C. A person, including a political committee, shall not knowingly accept or solicit a contribution, directly or indirectly, including a contribution earmarked or otherwise directed or coordinated through another person, including a political committee, that violates the contribution limits provided for in this section.

D. On the day after each general election, the contribution amounts provided in Subsection A of this section shall be increased by the percentage of the preceding two calendar year's increase of the consumer price index for all urban consumers, United States city average for all items, published by the United States department of labor. The amount of the increase shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of one hundred dollars ($100). The secretary of state shall publish by October 1 before each general election the adjusted contribution limits that shall take effect the day after the following general election.

E. All contributions in excess of the limits imposed by the provisions of this section shall be deposited in the public election fund upon a finding by the secretary of state that the contribution limits have been exceeded.
