

Legislative Finance Committee Seeks Economist

The New Mexico Legislative Finance Committee (LFC) seeks an applicant for the position of Economist. The LFC, located in Santa Fe, is a bipartisan committee of the New Mexico Legislature responsible for making budget recommendations for the funding of state government. The Economist works closely with the Chief Economist in forecasting state revenues and performing fiscal policy and tax analysis. A graduate degree in Economics or Finance is preferred; strong candidates with undergraduate degrees in economics will also be considered. Applicants must possess superior writing, research, data analysis and communication skills. To apply, fax or email a cover letter and resume by September 30, 2013 to:

Peter van Moorsel, Chief Economist
