SUMMARY

Synopsis of Bill

Senate Bill 159 appropriates one hundred fifty thousand ($150,000) from the general fund to Children, Youth and Families Department for expenditure in 2009 to provide child care services to homeless children in Dona Ana county.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

The appropriation of one hundred fifty thousand ($150,000) contained in this bill is a recurring expense to the general fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of 2009 shall revert to the general fund.

This bill is not part of CYFD's request or the Executive recommendation.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

Ninety thousand of the nation’s homeless include children. Of these 90,000 children, 80% are under the age of three. On any given day in Dona Ana County, there are approximately 250 homeless individuals. An estimated 41% are families with children. Homeless and near-homeless children and families have multiple needs that require intensive one-on-one and team-based intervention strategies. Homeless families lack food, clothing, shelter, medical care, jobs, education, and mental health services.

Research conducted by the National Coalition for the Homeless concludes that homeless children are 35% more likely to have major and/or severe health issues than children living in poverty, they are also more likely to become involved with the juvenile and/or adult justice system, and fail in school by 7th grade. Early indicators show that intervention with these fragile children and intense training for those who care for them is producing results with 65% performing at age level. Homeless children get sick four times more often; have six times as many speech problems; have four times higher rate of asthma; have four times higher rate of delayed development; one in 10 misses at least 1 month of school each year; and most homeless families are made up of a young, single mother with two young children. Homeless children are twice as likely not to be enrolled in a preschool program. In addition, the waiting period for public housing averages one to two years and programs helping to pay part of the families’ rent have even longer wait lists.

PERFORMANCE IMPLICATIONS

This program ties directly to the Governor’s Policy Initiative, Healthy New Mexico Task 2.6 – Improve Access and Quality of Child Care.

ADMINISTRATIVE IMPLICATIONS

This bill would be managed with existing resources. CYFD staff currently fund and monitor a homeless childcare program in Bernalillo County.

OTHER SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES

Information from the committee on temporary shelter state:

Every day, homeless children are confronted with stressful, often traumatic events. As these painful experiences continue throughout their young lives, these children are indelibly shaped and sometimes scarred. The stress has profound effects on the cognitive and emotional development of homeless children, as indicated below.

- More than one-fifth of homeless children between 3 and 6 years have serious emotional problems requiring professional care.
- Homeless children aged 6 to 17 years struggle with high rates of mental health problems.
- Less than one-third of homeless children are receiving mental health treatment they need.

The causes of child abuse are complex, but there is substantial evidence that poverty is associated with child maltreatment (Drake and Pandey). Exposure to violence injures children and destroys their sense of self and family. Combining homelessness with violence is even more detrimental, since homeless children have fewer tools to recover from the trauma of such violence. Other troubling facts include the following...

- More than half of homeless school-aged children (57%) were witness to or victims of violence in their households or communities. (Stern & Nunez)
- Domestic violence is alarmingly prevalent among homeless families--affecting 63% of homeless parents. (Stern & Nunez).
- Just over 60% of homeless single mothers grew up in the foster care system.

WHAT WILL BE THE CONSEQUENCES OF NOT ENACTING THIS BILL

Status quo.
